PROLOGUE

The creation of this book has been a spiritually transformative process for me and I would like to thank you for being a part of the collective spiritual expansion!

This book is meant to be a tool for starseeds and other spiritually minded individuals looking for answers regarding their incarnational history in other star systems beyond our own solar system. Using the information contained in this book, starseeds will be able to determine from their natal charts if they have previously incarnated in the Pleiades, Arcturus, the Andromeda Galaxy, Sirius, Orion, Draco and others.

My hope is that this ebook will provide answers and assist in the spiritual evolution of starseeds and the collective expansion of human consciousness.

Thank you again for purchasing this ebook!

Much love,

Aspen

CHAPTER 1: A STARSEED'S GALACTIC JOURNEY

WHAT IS A STARSEED?

A common spiritual belief is that all living beings possess a soul, an eternal energetic and conscious fragment of the Source (or Creator) Energy. The soul, being comprised of energy has a frequency, a wavelength and an amplitude. The soul is actually an amalgamation of several waves of energy that combine to create a harmonic series. The frequency at which a soul vibrates is called it's Innate Frequency. An individual's innate frequency carries information regarding the karmic energy picked up by a soul during the course of its past lives. This karmic energy is determined by past lives but it also determines the nature of future incarnations.

Some spiritualists believe that souls not only incarnate on Earth but also incarnate into other star systems. People that believe that their souls have incarnated into other star systems before incarnating on Earth, often refer to themselves as Starseeds.

Starseeds report having several traits in common:

- they feel like the 'black sheep' in their family
- they are drawn to the night sky, astronomy and aliens
- they question established social hierarchies
- they tend to have lower blood pressure, lower body temperature
- they drawn to the paranormal and metaphysics
- humanity feels 'alien'.

Starseeds tend to be very intuitive and because they have incarnated in other star systems, their innate frequency will maintain an energetic connection with their previous home star systems. This energetic connection will draw starseeds to the night sky and give them a knowing of being from a different world. A starseed will feel a resonance with star systems where they have had previous lives because of the energetic connection with their innate frequency. Starseeds will often resonate with more than one star system because starseeds often incarnate in several star systems before incarnating on to Earth.

A starseed's innate frequency requires a specific energetic atmosphere on Earth in order for incarnation to occur. This specific energetic atmosphere is created when the celestial bodies of our solar system align with the star systems in our incarnational history. For example, if a starseed soul originated in Arcturus and incarnated in the Pleiades before coming to Earth, the soul would require that the celestial bodies align with both Arcturus and the Pleiades to create the right energetic atmosphere for incarnation.

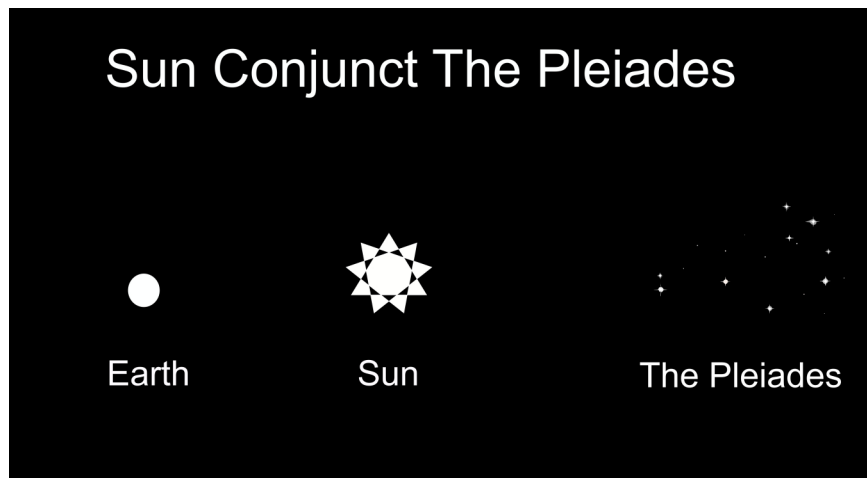

CHAPTER 2: INTERPRETING STARSEED ASTROLOGICAL ALIGNMENTS

STARSEEDS AND NATIVE AMERICAN SPIRITUALITY

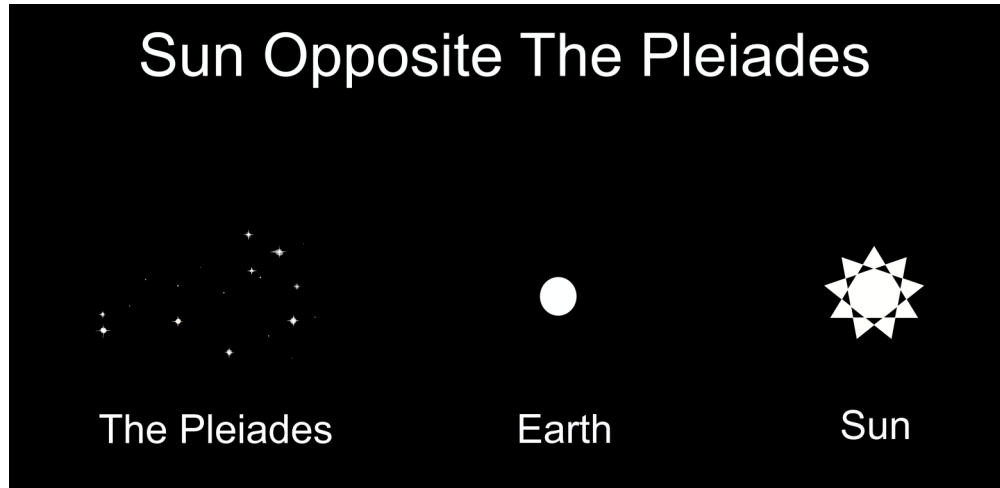

Many Native American cultures believed that some people incarnated from the stars. In Cree and Ojibwe cultures, it is believed that souls enter into this world through a 'hole in the sky'. This 'hole in the sky' is located in the Pleiades star cluster. People that have souls that have incarnated through the Pleiades are given 'spirit names' that end with 'Star Woman' or 'Star Man' and are considered members of the Star Nation.

A spirit name is the name that your soul is known by in the spirit world. Native American naming ceremonies vary from culture to culture and even within cultures, as shaman may have their own unique ceremonies. Naming ceremonies often consider the natural phenomena present at the time of a child's birth. For example, if a child is born when the north wind is blowing, she might be named 'Girl of the North Wind'.

Sometimes the astronomical positions of the Sun, the Moon, the visible planets (Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn) and the constellations are used to name the child. It is believed that the energy of the natural phenomena present at birth is similar to the energy of the child's soul. In mid-May, a natural phenomena occurs where the 'hole in the sky' or the Pleiades appears to move behind the Sun - this is called the Pleiadian Alignment. The Earth, the Sun and the Pleiades are all in perfect alignment - they are in conjunction.

The Conjunct Pleiadian Alignment occurs from May 17th to May 22nd. An opposite Pleiadian Alignment occurs from November 17th to November 22nd. The Earth, the Sun and the Pleiades are still in perfect alignment but the Earth is located between the Sun and the Pleiades - creating a fulling or polarizing effect on the Pleiadian energy on Earth.

Children born during these Pleiadian alignments are given a spirit name with the suffix 'Star Boy' or 'Star Girl'. Girls born during this time might be named 'Summer Star Girl' and after puberty they will be called 'Summer Star Woman'. As members of the Star Nation, it is believed that these children have souls that originate from the stars and that they hold special knowledge.

THE NATAL CHART AND ASTROLOGICAL ALIGNMENTS

Astrology is the study of the movement and relative position of celestial bodies interpreted as having an effect on human personality, affairs and our natural world. Astrology has been studied by humanity for thousands of years and the ancient discipline is in no risk of dying out anytime soon.

Practitioners of astrology believe that the energy of celestial bodies can influence the energies of Earth and all those energies found on Earth, including our own. It is also believed that the energies and relative position of celestial bodies at the moment of our birth can impact our personalities for the rest of our life. Astrologers study the relative position of celestial bodies at the time of our birth by calculating and drawing out a natal chart or birth chart. These charts indicate the relative locations of the sun, the moon and the planets at the time of our birth. Astrologers will then interpret the chart to determine various aspects of one's personality.

As stated previously, starseed souls require a specific energetic atmosphere created by the relative position of celestial bodies, in order to incarnate on Earth. Therefore specific astrological alignments will need to occur in order for a starseed soul to incarnate. These astrological alignments can be identified by interpreting one's natal chart.

Using the traditional starseed knowledge from Native American cultures about children born during the Pleiadian Alignment allows us to use birth charts to determine whether or not an individual was also born with the Sun conjunct the Pleiades. However, there are other alignments that would have been used to identify a 'Star Child'. If the Moon passed through the Pleiades, if one of the visible planets passed through the Pleiades, or if the Pleiades is rising on the eastern horizon, the child was also named a 'Star Child'. The natal chart can be used to look for those alignments as well!

These conjunct alignments with the Pleiades are considered Traditionally Significant Starseed Alignments and always indicate a past life in that star system. In this ebook I will identify ALL Traditionally Significant Starseed Alignments for 12 stars systems! However, there are other Starseed Alignments considered significant by Western Astrology that will also be included in this ebook!

STARSEEDS AND WESTERN ASTROLOGY

Building on the Traditionally Significant Starseed Alignments, we can use Western Astrology to look for other Starseed Alignments. Other angles considered important in Western Astrology is 180 degrees (opposite), 60 degrees (sextile), 90 degrees (square) and 120 degrees (trine). We can search the birth chart for Starseed Alignments that are located opposite the Pleiades, Sextile the Pleiades, Square the Pleiades and Trine the Pleiades.

These Western Starseed Alignments are also listed in this ebook for the Pleiades and for 11 additional star systems!

Interpreting your Natal Chart for Starseed Origins and Incarnations

Conjunct Alignments with the Sun, the Moon or one of the visible planets and a given star system, indicates a very recent incarnation in that star system. Individuals with these alignments are likely to hold a lot of karma from that star system and that star system is likely to influence them heavily.

Conjunct Alignments with non-visible planets (Neptune, Uranus and Pluto) indicate older incarnations that may not influence you as heavily in your current lifetime. These are older incarnations and may indicate your soul's origin. Karma from your origins may not influence you as heavily as recent incarnations. (However it is possible to originate in the Pleiades, incarnate in Orion and then incarnate back in the Pleiades before incarnating on Earth.) Opposite, Sextile and Trine Starseed alignments are considered indicators of starseed incarnations. Square incarnations are only indicative of starseed incarnations if accompanied by conjunct alignments.

Conjunct Alignments with the Ascendent (and sometimes Midheaven) is considered an indicator of a very recent incarnation in that star system. For example, if Sirius is rising at the time of your birth, that is a Traditionally Significant Alignment.

The following chapters will list the Conjunct Alignments for 12 star systems including the Pleiades, Sirius and others. The Opposite, Trine, Sextile and Square Alignments are also listed here for 12 star systems!

CHAPTER 3: THE ANDROMEDANS

The Andromeda Galaxy is the nearest galaxy to our galaxy, the Milky Way and is located in the constellation of Andromeda. The Andromeda Galaxy and the Milky Way Galaxy are currently moving towards one another and are expected to collide in approximately 4 billion years. The Andromeda Galaxy can be found in the night sky by looking for the star Vertex in the Andromeda constellation.

Starseeds that have incarnated from the Andromeda Galaxy tend to share some of the following characteristics:

- they LOVE freedom and may go to great lengths to maintain their freedom
- they love to travel and some will choose to be purposely nomadic lifestyle, travelling by foot, bike, boat or air
- they may be inclined to travel or roam as a method of spiritual expansion
- they don't like making commitments or feeling obligated to do something
- they don't like time and may be late
- they are very protective of their emotional boundaries
- they can spot emotional manipulation and do not put up with guilt trips
- they really dislike when they are treated unfairly
- they need freedom in the expression of their true self
- of all the starseeds, they have the hardest time understanding why humans have to pay to live on a planet they were born on
- due to their forever expanding, freedom-loving nature Andromedan starseeds are a strong driving force behind social evolution and revolution

Andromedans are often labelled as flaky or unreliable because they have a really hard time adjusting to life in Western societies where time is heavily monitored. Andromedans don't like to be monitored in any way and they may have a hard time with the relative lack of privacy we all currently experience on Earth. When an Andromedan starseed feels like they have no control over their lives, there is a tendency to run away to maintain autonomy. When Andromedan starseeds feel like their parents are too controlling, it may result in estrangement or if they feel too controlled by the government or society, they may choose to live off-grid.

ANDROMEDAN STARSEED ALIGNMENTS IN NATAL CHARTS

The Andromeda Galaxy is located at 27° Aries and is not visible to the naked eye. However, the star Vertex in the Andromeda constellation is visible to the naked eye and can be used to locate the galaxy as they are directly in line with one another.

The Andromeda Galaxy is much different than the stars of the Andromeda constellation but for ease, they will both be listed here.

Conjunct, Sextile and Trine alignments indicate Andromeda karma that is well integrated and accepted by your Ego.

Opposite and Square alignments tend to indicate Andromedan karma that is poorly integrated and not accepted by your Ego. If you express your Andromedan karma you are likely to feel annoyed, shameful or guilty.

Beings from the Andromeda Constellation are different than beings from the Andromeda Galaxy. The Andromedans from the Andromeda Galaxy look much different from beings in the Milky Way Galaxy because we have different physical evolutionary histories. Most highly intelligent beings in the Milky Way have the same overall body plan: bilateral (mirrored left and right) body plan, with four limbs and one large head. Andromedans from the Milky Way follow that same sort of body plan. Andromedans from the Andromeda Galaxy, do not always follow that body plan. Beings from the Andromeda Galaxy tend to have a six limb body plan: a pair of legs, a pair of arms and a pair of wings.

CHAPTER 4: THE ARCTURIANS

Arcturus is a star located in the Bootes constellation. It is considered to be an archaic star system. As such, the race of beings from this star system, the Arcturians are also considered to be quite ancient. The Arcturians embody wisdom, knowledge and enjoy passing on their information and lessons.

Arcturian starseeds have had recent incarnations on planets associated with the star Arcturus and often share many traits and skills of Arcturians. The following traits are often attributed to Arcturian starseeds:

- drawn to sacred geometry, ley lines, ancient civilizations
- drawn to fundamental sciences, like quantum physics
- Enjoy teaching and sharing knowledge
- hold their opinions strongly
- good at planning, organizing and building
- interested in advanced technology, science and mathematics
- may be interested in building, designing and planning the future on Earth perhaps through sustainable energy, developing new community living models etc.
- may see colourful geometric patterns when they close their eyes
- may be gifted musicians
- like to ask deep, philosophical questions

Arcturians are focused on ushering in the “new future” on Earth in relation to spirituality, technology, community living that is focused on balance and sustainability. They have agreed to help Earth by acting as spirit guides and by incarnating on to Earth as starseeds. Spirit guides operate on a spiritual level, connecting with many individuals on Earth. Starseeds operate on a physical level and are often acting as teachers. Arcturian starseed spiritual teachers tend to focus on the practical side of spirituality like conscious manifestation, intuitive development and generally how to thrive in the 3rd dimension. However, Arcturian starseeds are also very active in the 3rd dimension regarding their purpose here on Earth - working in science, research, architecture, city planning and as teachers.

Arcturians tend to communicate with people telepathically or through claircognizance. They like to transmit information in colours, geometric patterns and even sounds. The frequencies of these colours, shapes and sounds may hold information and lessons related to the structure of our universe and the laws that govern it.

Arcturians tend to embody the frequency of energies associated with the Throat Chakra. They are heavy into the communication and transmission of information. Arcturians are also big on helping individuals align with their true selves and find their true voice and spread the truth of the universe. Arcturians like to use their vast foundational knowledge and apply it for use in physical applications. So they will use their knowledge of sacred geometry and mathematics to design communities, homes and develop new sources of energy. There is a theme of taking divine knowledge from the spiritual world and using it to manifest divine technology into the physical world.

ARCTURIAN STARSEED ALIGNMENTS IN NATAL CHARTS

The star Arcturus is part of the Bootes constellation and is located at 24° Libra. Another notable star in the Bootes constellation is the star Izar, located at 28° Libra.

The following is a list of aspects that may indicate Arcturian origins or incarnations if found in your birth chart:

Conjunct	Opposite	Trine	Sextile	Square
23 deg. Libra	23 deg. Aries	23 deg. Gemini	23 deg. Sag.	23 deg. Can/Cap

CHAPTER 5: THE LYRANS

Lyra is a small constellation bordered by Draco, Hercules and Cygnus and contains the bright star Vega. Lyrans are some of the oldest souls in our galaxy and have incarnated into several other star systems including Arcturus, Sirius and the Pleiades. Lyran beings are diverse in appearance but they have some common behavioral traits. All Lyrans are humanoid and are said to be the root race of all humanoid races in our galaxy. Some Lyrans have cat like features around the eyes and nose, others have birdlike features and some of them look very similar to humans. Despite looking human, they are very varied in their skin, hair and eye colour depending on their home planets position from the star and the type of star. Lyrans played an important role in the creation of humanity and seeded some of the first souls onto Atlantis. During the creation of humanity, the Lyrans contributed the element of Fire to Earth and gifted humanity with Lyran work ethic. The Lyrans contributed a lot of knowledge to Atlantis and Lemuria regarding the use of physical energy.

Lyrans have plenty of experience incarnating into other worlds and it shows in the way they live their lives. When Lyrans incarnate into a three dimensional world, they like to experience that world to the fullest. They show a certain fearlessness about living, like they've done it a million times - which they have, of course! But do not mistake them for reckless, as Lyrans are known for analysing their surroundings before acting. Lyrans are excellent at operating in the physical dimensions. They have mastered the energies of the divine masculine and as a result understand the often overlooked power of good old fashioned, hard physical labour.

Lyran Starseeds tend to have the following traits:

- they experience the physical world to the fullest
- have a love for good food, drink and music
- they like to push their physical limits
- they pursue dreams fearlessly
- they don't mind hard physical labour but once they get started, they don't like to stop until the job is done
- they enjoy people watching and analysing social interactions

- they are natural leaders because they are very experienced and comfortable living the 3rd dimension
- they may have many lovers because they enjoy the physical experiences of love but have a hard time staying put
- their fierce independence may be painful for those close to them, especially parents

Lyran starseeds are the type of people that would sell their home and leave their lives behind to buy a sailboat and sail around the world and the type that were foreign exchange students at 14. It is important that the parents of Lyran starseeds learn to let go of their children and allow them to be themselves. If parents hold on to their children too tightly, the Lyran starseed will either fight tooth and nail for their independence or they will put their parents' needs above their own, essentially strangling their inner selves. A Lyran that is not allowed to express their independence is very, very unhappy and will begin to exhibit traits that are the EXACT opposite of what is typical for a Lyran starseed. Either situation can be explosive.

Lyran starseeds also make excellent athletes as they enjoy physical activity and pushing physical limits but they also compete fearlessly. Lyran starseeds are the type of people that do things that would make the rest of us panic at least a little. Lyrans have mastered survival in the physical because they are very grounded. As such, they embody the energy of the root chakra and the colour red.

LYRAN STARSEED ALIGNMENTS IN NATAL CHARTS

The Lyra constellation contains several stars with one particularly bright star, Vega. Several of these stars contain planetary systems that are home to the Lyran beings.

Lyra is located at 10° to 21° Capricorn with the star Vega located at 15° Capricorn.

CHAPTER 6: THE SIRIANS

Sirius is a binary star system found in the Canis major constellation and is the brightest star in the sky. The colour of the star has been in discussion since ancient times, with ancient people describing the colour as reddish-orange. Today, the larger star is a white-blue colour. However, when viewing the star with the naked eye, it is common to see red, blue and white shimmering colours.

Beings from Sirius are younger than beings from Arcturus and Lyra but older than beings from Pleiades and Earth. Sirius is one of the four races of beings that took a primary role in the seeding of life on Earth.

Sirius is a star system that shows a high degree of variability in the appearance of Sirians. There are feline-like beings, blue skinned beings, elemental beings and lion beings that have wings. Sirians tend to be very fantastical and mystical. They produce many great wizards, shamans, witches and other types of mystics. The Sirian star system has several inhabitable planets, which explains the diversity in the beings from Sirius. As elementals, Sirians work with nature and animals, including what some would call mythical creatures like unicorns, winged horses and griffins. Although Sirians are very diverse in appearance, they have some common traits that include:

- Enjoy fantasy books, games and movies because these worlds may hold a lot of resemblance to their home star system
- Enjoy the mystical arts and may resonate with wizards, witches, shamans, priest/priestesses
- They prefer to maintain a small group of close friends
- They have a hard time trusting people
- They may seem quiet or shy but in reality they are analyzing people, searching for truths and lies
- They have very vibrant imaginations
- Sirians are often very creative, enjoying music and art

Sirians tend to work in areas including the arts, music and writing but they also work in areas of mystical healing, witchcraft and energy work. Sirians may also work protecting the environment and the rights of animals. Sirians can also be very alternative and they enjoy expressing themselves in their appearance and/or in their art. Sirians tend to hate stereotypes but they will often be labelled by others as “geek”, “gothic” or “hippie”. Sirians have really embraced tattoos, as they love art that expresses who they are.

The energy vibration of Sirius is a combination of blue and orange, which is why they like to communicate and express themselves through art. Likewise Sirius embodies the energies of the Throat and Sacral chakras.

SIRIAN STARSEED ASPECTS IN THE NATAL CHART

The star Sirius is located at 14° Cancer and is part of the Canis Major constellation.

The following is a list of the aspects that indicate origins or incarnations in the Sirian star system:

Conjunct	Opposite	Trine	Sextile	Square
13 deg. Cancer	13 deg. Cap.	13 deg. Pisces	13 deg. Virgo	13 deg. Aries/Libra
14 deg. Cancer	14 deg. Cap.	14 deg. Pisces	14 deg. Virgo	14 deg. Aries/Libra
15 deg. Cancer	15 deg. Cap.	15 deg. Pisces	15 deg. Virgo	15 deg. Aries/Libra

CHAPTER 7: THE ORIONS

The Orion constellation is located in Gemini and is home to several different types of beings, all with similar overall characteristics. Like other races of beings, they have agreed to help Earth in our spiritual evolution by seeding Orions into human bodies on Earth (Orion starseeds) and by acting as spiritual guides to individual people on Earth.

Orion starseeds tend to have the following traits:

- a insatiable thirst for knowledge
- analyse and dissect all forms of information
- hold opinions very strongly and do not change their opinions easily
- need quantitative proof to accept opposing viewpoints
- quite knowledgeable about a wide area of topics
- react to emotions in a logical manner
- require alone time to recharge
- strive for perfection
- have a good handle on willpower and self discipline
- enjoy competition

While places like the Pleiades and Arcturus operate from a place of unity, Orion operates from a place of duality. While they are very enlightened beings, their duality allows Orions to operate with a bit of Ego, and enjoy the competition of sports and strive for perfection in a skill. In contrast, a Pleiadian would likely not want to keep score and accept that wherever you are in the development of a skill, is exactly where you should be. Orions understand their duality and they have learned to rather enjoy it. However, Orions may come off a little self centered or cold as they have a slightly weaker emotional body. They operate with a bit more divine masculine energy and often forget to consider one's emotions when delivering a message or a teaching.

Orions embody the frequency of energy typically associated with the solar plexus chakra. The golden yellow colour associated with the solar plexus also seems to radiate from Orion beings. Orion spirit guides are excellent at teaching people to master their willpower to operate at their highest potential.

ORION STARSEED ASPECTS IN THE NATAL CHART

The Orion constellation is located from 11° to 28° Gemini. Notable stars within the Orion constellation include Bellatrix at 20° Gemini, Mintaka at 22° Gemini and Betelgeuse at 28° Gemini. The following is a list of aspects that indicated origins or incarnations in the Orion star system:

Conjunct	Opposite	Trine	Sextile	Square

28 deg. Gemini	28 deg. Sag	28 deg. Aqua.	28 deg. Leo	28 deg. Pisces/Virgo

CHAPTER 8: THE PLEIADIANS

The Pleiadians are from the planets associated with the stars in the Pleiadian star complex located near the constellation Taurus. Pleiadians are multi-dimensional and may exist at dimensions including 3D through to 9D. Pleiadians tend to be very slender, tall and look very Nordic with light hair and light skin. They have well-defined cheekbones, jawlines and cupid's bows. While Pleiadians may typically have light skin, there have been reports of Pleiadians with dark skin. When beings are actually incarnated into the Pleiadian star system they may look Nordic but once Pleiadian souls incarnate on to Earth - they incarnate into Earth bodies which are much more varied in appearance. Hence, Pleiadian starseeds here on Earth do not have to look completely like a typical 'Pleiadian'. However, starseeds will usually have at least one of the physical traits typical of Pleiadians, like strong jawlines, blonde hair, defined cupid's bow, larger sized teeth, hooded eyelids and high cheekbones. Gender in the Pleiades is more of spectrum rather than two separate states. Although the sexes are differentiable, they are more fluid than what has been typical of Earth.

Pleiadians have mastered the art of living with a balanced heart chakra; a heart chakra that has both feminine and masculine energy flowing equally through it. This is why they appear more gender fluid. This is also why Pleiadians have chosen to help humans in their spiritual evolution as a species at this current time. Most humans today are operating from their lower three chakras and have yet to operate from a completely open, balanced heart chakra. Pleiadians have agreed to assist with human spiritual evolution through operating as spirit guides and as starseeds. Pleiadian spirit guides are here to connect with humans and aid them into living with an open heart chakra. They operate primarily through spiritual connections with humans. Pleiadian starseeds operate primarily through physical connections with humans. Pleiadian starseeds agreed to incarnate into the bodies of humans, so that when they remember who they are and remember their gifts they are able to connect with humans and share their knowledge.

Pleiadian Starseeds tend to have the following traits:

- challenge social norms
- may have food sensitivities
- poor emotional boundaries - empathic
- they may defy traditional gender roles
- nurturing and may have healing abilities
- mystical and nature-loving
- love to share love - sometimes too much - trying to please everyone
- strong sexuality

Pleiadians tend to embody the frequency of energy that is associated with the heart chakra. Pleiadians are concerned with unconditional love and unity. They are currently helping humanity learn to embody the heart energy. As such, Pleiadians have a strong relationship with sex and sensuality. Sex is the physical manifestation of love and when sex is used to express unconditional love - it becomes a very powerful tool for energy work.

Conjunct, Trine and Sextile Pleiadian Alignments are likely to indicate Pleiadian past lives that resulted in karma that is well integrated and accepted by your Ego. Opposite and Square alignments are likely to indicate Pleiadian past lives that resulted in karma that is poorly integrated and not accepted by your Ego. When your Ego accepts your Pleiadian karma, you are likely to easily accept themes related to your past life in the Pleiades. For example, if you had a past life in the Pleiades where you had everything you could ever want, your Ego may accept themes of financial stability, you may have an 'easy-come' attitude towards money and resources - you may also be a little materialistic, indulgent and perhaps even... lazy or entitled. Let's say karma from the past life was poorly integrated in your current lifetime, your Ego would have a hard time accepting financial stability, your Ego will feel that money and resources are hard to come by - you're likely to struggle with gathering resources.
